

THE HOUSING INFO STYLE GUIDES

The Modern Classic Style Guide

The details that make the look, and how to recreate it.

WELCOME

A home that feels collected, not decorated

Warm walnut, the soft glow of brass, layered vintage rugs and art that feels collected over time. Modern Classic is the look of a home that has been lived in and loved, with good bones, quiet color and pieces chosen slowly.

It looks effortless, but it is not accidental. Every room follows the same few rules: warm undertones, real architecture, layered light and fewer, better things. This guide breaks those rules down into paint colors, materials and simple formulas you can follow room by room.

Use it in order the first time, then come back to the checklists whenever you are ready to tackle the next space.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

Start with the palette and finishes, since they tie every room together. Then add architecture and lighting, and finish with furniture, fabric and styling. Always sample paint on your own walls before committing.

THE LOOK

The Modern Classic formula

Six ingredients show up in every room. Get these right and the rest falls into place.

01

Warm whites that glow

Creamy whites with a soft yellow or red undertone, never cool or grey. They look golden in daylight and cozy at night.

02

Real architecture

Arches, panelling and crown molding give a plain box room the bones of an older home.

03

Rich walnut

Deep, warm wood in furniture, built-ins and cabinetry grounds all that cream.

04

Aged brass

Unlacquered or antiqued brass in lighting and hardware adds a soft, living glow.

05

Layered vintage rugs

Faded, generously sized rugs bring pattern, color and softness underfoot.

06

Art that feels collected

Landscapes and still lifes in gilt or wood frames, lit and hung with intention.

INSIDE THE GUIDE

The color palette

Six colors and finishes do all the work: warm whites that glow instead of going grey, a soft olive accent, rich walnut and aged brass.

WALLS

White Dove

Benjamin Moore OC-17

A soft, warm white with a hint of cream. The backdrop for every room.

TRIM

Alabaster

Sherwin-Williams SW 7008

A creamy white for trim, doors, ceilings and panelling.

UPHOLSTERY

Pointing

Farrow & Ball No. 2003

The warm linen tone to match sofas, curtains and bedding to.

ACCENT

Bancha

Farrow & Ball No. 298

A muted olive for a study, cabinetry, a velvet chair or a door.

WOOD

Special Walnut

Minwax Wood Finish 224

A rich, warm brown for built-ins, islands and furniture.

METAL

Aged Brass

Unlacquered finish

For lighting, hardware and faucets. It deepens beautifully with time.

Colors shown are printed or on-screen previews and will vary by device. Always test real samples on your walls in morning and evening light before you paint.

THE PALETTE

Where each color goes

Modern Classic works because every white, beige and brass shares the same warm undertone. Keep the whites close in value so panelling and trim read as soft texture rather than contrast.

SURFACE	COLOR	SHEEN	NOTES
Walls	White Dove, BM OC-17	Matte or eggshell	Use eggshell in kitchens and baths for wipeability.
Trim & doors	Alabaster, SW 7008	Satin	Slightly creamier than the walls, so it reads soft, not stark.
Ceilings	Alabaster, SW 7008	Flat	Never builder white. A warm ceiling keeps the room glowing.
Wall panelling	Same as walls	Eggshell	Paint molding the wall color for a quiet, custom look.
Accent room	Bancha, F&B 298	Matte, satin trim	Color drench a study or powder room: walls, trim and ceiling.
Cabinetry	Special Walnut or Bancha	Satin	Walnut for an island or built-ins, olive for a pantry or bar.
Upholstery	Pointing, F&B 2003	Fabric	Match cream linens and slipcovers to this warm tone.

ALSO TRY, SOFT OLIVES

DESIGNER TIP

North-facing rooms make whites look cooler, so lean creamier there. South-facing rooms can take a slightly crisper white. Test large samples on two walls and check them at 9am and 7pm.

MATERIALS

Wood, metal & stone

Natural materials age beautifully, which is exactly why they always look expensive.

Wood: rich walnut

- ◆ Walnut or walnut-stained oak for islands, built-ins, consoles and dining tables.
- ◆ Mix one or two antique wood pieces with patina into every room.
- ◆ Keep floors in a warm mid tone oak so the walnut furniture stands out.

Stone: honed marble

- ◆ Honed marble with soft, warm veining for counters, fireplace surrounds and vanities.
- ◆ Choose honed over polished for a softer, older look.
- ◆ Carry marble into small moments: trays, lamps and side tables.

Metal: aged brass

- ◆ Unlacquered or antique brass for lighting, cabinet hardware and faucets.
- ◆ Stick to one warm metal family per room; bronze works as a supporting accent.
- ◆ Avoid chrome and bright polished nickel, which read cool.

Fabric: linen, wool & velvet

- ◆ Cream linen for sofas, slipcovers and curtains.
- ◆ Olive or deep green velvet for one accent chair or ottoman per room.
- ◆ Wool and vintage rugs for warmth and pattern underfoot.

ARCHITECTURE GUIDE

Adding character to a plain room

The arches and molding are what make these rooms feel expensive. Here is how to add them, even to a builder-grade home. Costs below are rough ranges and vary by region and home.

01

Wall panelling

Picture frame molding boxes painted the wall color. Keep margins even: about 4 to 6 inches from corners, the ceiling and the chair rail.

DIY: $150 to $400 per wall · Pro: $600 to $1,500 per wall

Beginner friendly with a miter saw, nail gun and caulk.

02

Crown molding

Size it to your ceiling height: about 3 to 5 inches for 8 ft ceilings, 5 to 7 inches for 9 ft, and 7 inches or more for 10 ft and up.

DIY: $3 to $6 per linear ft · Pro: $8 to $20 per linear ft

Corners are tricky; many people hire this out.

03

Arched doorways

Round the top of an existing cased opening with an arch kit, or reframe a doorway with a plastered arch between two rooms.

Arch kit: $150 to $600 · Pro reframe: $1,500 to $4,000

Check for load-bearing walls with a contractor first.

04

Ceiling medallions

A medallion above a chandelier adds instant age. Aim for roughly one third of the fixture's diameter or a little larger.

DIY: $30 to $150 each

Lightweight polyurethane styles install with adhesive and caulk.

WHERE TO START

If you only do one thing, panel the wall behind your sofa or bed. It is the most visible surface, the most affordable project and the biggest change for the money.

ARCHITECTURE GUIDE

Details that finish the shell

Once the big moves are done, these smaller upgrades carry the look into every corner.

- ◆ Taller baseboards. Aim for 5 to 7 inches with a simple cap. Skinny builder baseboards undo everything else.
- ◆ Chunkier door casings. Swap flat 2 1/4 inch casings for 3 1/2 inches or more with a back band.
- ◆ Chair rail in dining rooms. About one third of the wall height, with panelling below.
- ◆ Paneled doors. Two or five panel doors in place of flat slabs, painted the trim color.
- ◆ Built-ins with walnut. Flank a fireplace or window with shelves to add architecture and storage.
- ◆ Brass hardware. Unlacquered knobs, cup pulls and hinges tie the architecture to the lighting.

DESIGNER TIP

Paint all trim, panelling and doors the same color and sheen throughout the home. Consistency is what makes a house read as one thoughtful whole.

LIGHTING FORMULA

Warm, layered and low

Brass pendants, candle chandeliers and sconces do the heavy lifting. Aim for at least three sources of light in every room, and keep most of them at eye level or below.

2700K

BULB COLOR TEMPERATURE

90+

CRI FOR TRUE COLORS

3+

LIGHT SOURCES PER ROOM

FIXTURE	HOW BIG	HOW HIGH
Dining chandelier	About half the table's width	30 to 34 inches above the tabletop
Room chandelier	Room length + width in feet = diameter in inches	At least 7 ft clear of the floor
Island pendants	12 to 18 inches each; 2 or 3 over the island	30 to 36 inches above the counter
Wall sconces	Scaled to the mirror or art they flank	60 to 66 inches from the floor to center
Picture lights	One half to two thirds of the art's width	Just above the top of the frame
Table lamps	Shade bottom near eye level when seated	Pair on consoles and nightstands

CHOOSE

Aged brass, linen or pleated fabric shades, candle-style chandeliers and dome pendants.

PUT EVERYTHING ON DIMMERS

Dimmed, warm light at night is what gives these rooms their glow. Choose dimmable LED bulbs.

FURNITURE & FABRICS

Classic, never stuffy

The mix is what keeps it fresh: clean-lined upholstery, antique-style wood and natural fabric.

60% CREAM UPHOLSTERY

30% WOOD

10%
ACCENT

- ◆ Sofas: tailored, rolled or track arms in cream linen or performance linen. Skip overstuffed and slouchy.
- ◆ Accent chairs: one pair in olive velvet, leather or a small-scale print.
- ◆ Wood: walnut or antique pieces with turned legs, carving or patina: consoles, chests, pedestal tables.
- ◆ The 1 in 3 rule: at least one of every three pieces should be vintage, antique or antique-inspired.
- ◆ Fabrics: linen, wool, cotton velvet and mohair. Pattern comes from rugs, art and a few pillows.
- ◆ Scale: leave 18 inches between a sofa and coffee table, and 30 to 36 inches for walkways.

RESTRAINT IS THE SECRET

Fewer, better pieces. Edit each surface to a few meaningful objects and leave breathing room.

RUGS, WINDOWS & DRAPERY

Hung high, sized generously

Scale is where most rooms go wrong. These simple numbers make ceilings look taller and rooms feel finished.

Window & drapery rules

- ◆ Mount the rod 4 to 6 inches below the ceiling, or halfway between the window top and ceiling.
- ◆ Extend the rod 8 to 12 inches past the frame on each side.
- ◆ Fabric width 2 to 2.5 times the window width for full, soft folds.
- ◆ Let panels kiss the floor or break by 1/2 inch. Never end at the sill.
- ◆ Lined linen in cream or a soft stripe, on a brass or wood rod.

Rug rules

ROOM	RULE OF THUMB
Living	All front furniture legs on the rug. Usually 8×10 or 9×12.
Dining	24 to 30 inches beyond the table on all sides so chairs stay on it.
Bedroom	18 to 24 inches showing on each side of the bed.
Entry & hall	A runner with 4 to 6 inches of floor showing on each side.
Kitchen	A vintage runner in front of the sink or range.

LOOK FOR

Faded Oushak, Persian and Turkish styles in rust, olive, blue and cream. Go bigger than feels natural.

ROOM 01 · THE ENTRY

A warm welcome

Arched doorways, panelled walls and a brass lantern set the tone the moment you walk in. A walnut console and a long vintage runner make the hallway feel collected, not builder-grade.

THE FORMULA

01 Layer the light

Pair an overhead lantern with lamps or sconces at the console. A ceiling fixture alone makes an entry feel flat and harsh.

02 Scale the console

Choose one 30 to 36 inches tall, then hang a mirror or art about two thirds its width, 6 to 8 inches above the top.

03 Ground it with a runner

A vintage runner leaving 4 to 6 inches of floor on each side instantly makes a hallway feel finished.

04 Add a landing spot

A tray or bowl for keys, a small stack of books and something living, like branches, makes the console useful as well as beautiful.

DESIGNER TIP

Paint walls and trim in two whites from the same warm family so the panelling reads as soft texture, not contrast.

SKIP THIS

A tiny rug and a bare wall. Go big on the mirror and the runner; they do the most work in the smallest space.

ROOM 02 · THE LIVING ROOM

A place to linger

A marble fireplace as the anchor, a cream sofa, olive velvet chairs and a large vintage rug. Wood, brass and landscape art add warmth and a sense of history.

THE FORMULA

01 Anchor to the fireplace

Face the sofa toward it and angle a pair of chairs to close the circle, keeping seating within 8 to 10 feet for easy conversation.

02 Balance cream and wood

Keep upholstery cream, add one walnut piece to every seating group, and bring in olive through a velvet chair or pillows.

03 Light in three layers

A picture light on the art, table lamps at seated eye level, and one floor lamp by the reading chair.

04 Collect the art

One large landscape over the mantel, then smaller vintage pieces on side walls. Mixed gilt and wood frames feel gathered over time.

DESIGNER TIP

Go bigger on the rug than feels natural. Every front furniture leg should sit on it.

SKIP THIS

Pushing every piece against the walls. Pull furniture in around the rug so the room feels intimate and intentional.

ROOM 03 · THE DINING ROOM

Made for gathering

A brass chandelier with linen shades over a round pedestal table, upholstered chairs and a long sideboard. Elegant, but easy enough for every day.

THE FORMULA

01 Go round or oval

Curved tables soften a boxy room and seat guests easily. Leave 36 to 42 inches behind each chair to pull out and walk by.

02 Size the chandelier

About half the table width, hung 30 to 34 inches above the top. A ceiling medallion above it adds instant age.

03 Style the sideboard

Lamps or tall candlesticks at each end, art centered above, and one low bowl of fruit or branches in between.

04 Dress the table simply

Linen napkins, ironstone and a low arrangement you can talk over. Keep centerpieces under 12 inches tall.

DESIGNER TIP

Hang the chandelier 30 to 34 inches above the table, and pick one roughly half the table's width.

SKIP THIS

A chandelier that is too small. When in doubt, size up; an undersized fixture makes the whole room feel unfinished.

ROOM 04 · THE KITCHEN

The heart of the home

Cream cabinetry, a walnut island and brass dome pendants create a kitchen that feels furnished rather than fitted, warm and hardworking in equal measure.

THE FORMULA

01 Mix, don't match

Paint the perimeter cabinets a warm cream and make the island walnut, so the room reads as furnished rather than fitted.

02 One warm metal

Keep the faucet, pulls and pendants in the same brass family. Unlacquered brass will patina and look better every year.

03 Soften the hard surfaces

Add a vintage runner, linen towels, ironstone on open shelves and a bowl of lemons to warm all that stone and tile.

04 Edit the counters

Leave long stretches of honed stone clear, and group daily items on a tray or board so the kitchen always looks calm.

DESIGNER TIP

Treat the island like a piece of furniture: walnut stain, turned or chunky legs, and a honed marble top.

SKIP THIS

Chrome or stainless hardware against warm brass lighting. Mixed cool and warm metals instantly cheapen the look.

ROOM 05 · THE STUDY

Room for new ideas

Walnut built-ins with picture lights, a classic partner desk and an olive armchair by the window turn a spare room into a study that feels like it has always been there.

THE FORMULA

01 Wrap it in color

Drench walls, trim and shelves in Bancha or line the room in walnut for a library feel that is cozy, not dark.

02 Place the desk with purpose

Face it into the room or toward a window, never at a blank wall, and add an armchair so the space works for reading too.

03 Light like a library

Brass picture lights over shelves or art, a desk lamp with a linen shade, and warm 2700K bulbs on dimmers.

04 Layer in history

Old clothbound books, a vintage map or globe and a framed landscape make the room feel collected rather than staged.

DESIGNER TIP

Style shelves in thirds: books, one ceramic or brass object, then a little breathing room.

SKIP THIS

An office chair that looks like an office chair. Choose an upholstered or wood desk chair that belongs in a living room.

ROOM 06 · THE BEDROOM

A sanctuary to come home to

An upholstered headboard, layered white and olive bedding, a walnut bench and one large, soft landscape painting. Calm, warm and grown-up.

THE FORMULA

01 Symmetry calms

Matching nightstands with a pair of lamps or sconces, and art centered over the bed, make the room feel restful.

02 Layer the bedding

White sheets, a cream quilt or coverlet and an olive throw at the foot. Finish with two euro shams, two standard pillows and one lumbar.

03 Soften the windows

Lined linen curtains hung high and wide filter morning light and make the ceiling feel taller.

04 Keep the palette quiet

Cream, oatmeal and one olive accent. Limit pattern to a small-scale pillow or the rug so the room stays restful.

DESIGNER TIP

Hang art 8 to 10 inches above the headboard and about two thirds its width.

SKIP THIS

Undersized art over the bed. Aim for about two thirds of the headboard width, hung 8 to 10 inches above it.

ROOM 07 · THE BATH

A moment to yourself

A furniture-style walnut vanity, brass sconces beside arched mirrors, a freestanding tub and a vintage runner bring the rest of the home's warmth into the bathroom.

THE FORMULA

01 Treat the vanity like furniture

A walnut vanity on legs or a plinth with a honed marble top feels custom and brings warmth to a hard room.

02 Light for your face

Sconces on either side of the mirror at about 66 inches give even, flattering light. Add a dimmable overhead for evenings.

03 Warm it up

A washable vintage runner, cream towels, a small piece of art and a wooden stool or plant keep it from feeling clinical.

04 Add one soft piece

A vintage runner or a small upholstered stool instantly makes a bath feel like part of the home.

DESIGNER TIP

Mount sconces on either side of the mirror at about eye level, roughly 66 inches, for the most flattering light.

SKIP THIS

Stark white tile and cool lighting. Choose warm whites, honed marble and 2700K bulbs so the room glows instead of glares.

WHY YOU CAN'T JUST COPY A PHOTO

Mistakes to avoid

Saving inspiration is easy. Getting it to look right in your own home is the hard part. These are the most common places it goes wrong.

01

Trusting screen colors

A warm white on your phone can turn grey, yellow or pink on your walls. Use real paint codes and sample them.

02

Mixing undertones

One cool white, grey sofa or chrome faucet throws the whole room off. Keep everything warm.

03

Skipping architecture

Furniture alone cannot fake good bones. Even simple panelling or taller baseboards change everything.

04

Getting scale wrong

Small rugs, short curtains and tiny pendants make a room feel cheap. Follow the numbers in this guide.

05

Buying it all at once

A one-stop shop look reads as a catalog. Layer in vintage and let the room evolve over time.

06

Relying on overheads

A single ceiling light flattens everything. Add lamps, sconces and picture lights on dimmers.

07

Over-accessorizing

Restraint is the secret. Fewer, better objects with room to breathe.

08

Treating rooms separately

Repeat the same palette, wood and metal in every room so the whole home flows.
